

After more than 40 years at our current location we prepare our downtown headquarters for a move across the street to Golden Eagle Plaza at 525 B St.

One of the perks of our new location? We will possess exclusive building top signage, making us the first law firm in downtown San Diego to do so. Though the move will not take place until May of 2010, on Wednesday, November 4, the letters of the Procopio logo replaced those of Reed Elsevier on the south side of the building. On Thursday November 12, installation of the sign on the north side was completed.

Take a look at a few photos of our new sign and its installation.

Below: Completed signage on our new building's north side.
Thursday, November 12

Above: installation of signage on the south side of the building. Wednesday, November 4

Below: Completed signage on the south side of the building.
Friday, November 6

