Professional Summary

Rosie Kim is a Senior Associate whose practice focuses on all areas of intellectual property law. She prepares and prosecutes domestic and international patent applications across numerous technologies, including medical devices, consumer devices, image recognition technologies, ophthalmic formulations and devices, and pharmaceuticals. Beyond patent prosecution, she prepares, prosecutes and enforces trademark portfolios, and represents clients in enforcing their intellectual property rights before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office Trial and Appeal Boards. Rosie regularly works with associates throughout the world to obtain intellectual property protection for clients internationally, and handles transactional matters such as negotiating and drafting agreements.
