

Glenn M. Feldman, Of Counsel

Practice Areas	Native American Law
Admissions	Arizona
Address	8355 East Hartford Drive, Suite 202 Scottsdale, AZ 85255
Direct Phone	480.682.4312
Direct Fax	619.788.5521
Email	glenn.feldman@procopio.com

Professional Summary

Glenn M. Feldman is a member of Procopio's Native American Law practice and specializes in Federal Indian Law. Glenn's practice focuses primarily on Indian gaming and reservation economic development activities, as well as tribal governmental functions. He acts as counsel to a number of Indian tribes, tribal casinos and tribal business ventures in Arizona, California and other western states. Glenn has extensive experience in drafting tribal codes and ordinances and has been involved in the negotiation of tribal-state gaming compacts in California, Arizona, Wisconsin, Kansas and Oklahoma. He is based in Procopio's Arizona office.

Representative Matters

- Successfully argued tribal gaming case, California v. Cabazon Band of Mission Indians, before the United States Supreme Court.
- Provided legal counsel for casino financing transactions totaling more than $2 billion.
- Represents several tribal public utility companies.
- Testified before U.S. Senate on tribal gaming issues.

Recognitions

- Best Lawyers in America® Lawyer of the Year 2021, 2018, 2016 and 2013 (Native American Law), Phoenix
- Best Lawyers in America® Lawyer of the Year 2017 and 2014 (Gaming Law), Phoenix

- Best Lawyers in America® 2005 to present (Gaming Law – Native American Law), Phoenix
- Rated by Chambers and Partners as “Senior Statesperson” in Native American Law, USA – Nationwide
- Martindale-Hubbell® AV Preeminent® Rating

Community

- Arizona State Bar, Past Chair, Indian Law Section

Education

- Georgetown University Law Center J.D., 1973

News Coverage

- "Letters to the Editor - Textualist Gorsuch and McGirt v. Oklahoma," The Wall Street Journal, July 11, 2020.
- Watts, Simon, "The Native American casino boom in the U.S.," BBC World Service Radio, February 6, 2020