Professional Summary

Jeff's construction practice includes the prosecution and defense of claims arising out of public and private construction projects. He represents owners, general contractors and subcontractors in claims involving construction and material defects, improper or non-conforming work, extra work, changed conditions, warranty, delay, disruption, acceleration, contract interpretation, mechanic's liens, stop notice and payment/performance bonds. Outside of the construction arena, Jeff handles all aspects of business and commercial litigation, including drug and medical device products liability, claims involving commercial and residential real estate, federal tax refunds, breach of contract, breach of fiduciary duty, fraud and professional liability.

Jeff has extensive experience serving as lead counsel in both jury and bench trials, binding arbitrations and mediations. He is admitted to practice law before all California State Courts, the US District Court for the Southern District of California, the US Court of Federal Claims and the US Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.
